LAMBERTON FAMILY & BREWSTER HERITAGE SCHOLARSHIP

VISION & PURPOSE

Some parents would deem educating 14 kids in an Adventist boarding school an impossibility, but Henry and Katie Lambertson stepped out in faith and God “parted the waters.” According to YVA/UCA alumni records, Henry and Katie had students at YVA/UCA for 27 years (1923 and 1950)!

The next generation of Lambertsons also sent their children, and the next. Now four generations of Lambertsons have attended and the number of Lambertson alumni now stands at approximately 100.

In 2011 Jerry Dawes, '52, Henry and Katie's oldest grandson, decided it was time the Lambertson family began demonstrating their gratitude, and he began passing the hat at the Lambertson family annual reunion. Then in 2016 Jerry passed the responsibility of fundraising to his younger cousins, Henry Lambertson, '66, and Dan Lambertson, '67, (brothers). They decided to not only honor their parents and grandparents, but also the Brewster community that was such a blessing to their family. Thus, the name of the scholarship is: the Lambertson Family & Brewster Heritage Scholarship.

The purpose of the Lambertson Family & Brewster Heritage Scholarship is to assist hard-working students in obtaining a quality Christian education at Upper Columbia Academy.
